“O God, who created all peoples in your image, we thank you for the wonderful diversity of race and culture in this world. Enrich our lives by ever-widening circles of fellowship, and show us your presence in those who differ most from us, until our knowledge of your love is made perfect in our love for all your children; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.”

Dear Friends,

Three years ago this past August, something happened in Charlottesville, VA. The Unite the Right White Supremacist Rally set something ablaze in many of us here at Christ Church, and we wanted to do something about it. We formed a group that became known as “A Circle of Friends”, which met in my living room for many months for informal conversations. It was a profound time of listening to each other and learning from our various experiences around race.

It was suggested by one of our participants that we use the above collect, found in our Book of Common Prayer, in our worship together. If you have been with us on Sundays, you know that we use the prayer whenever we can. I particularly like the idea of finding God’s presence in those who differ most from us: that seems to be the rub! How easy it is to love those who are like me. Our Lord calls us to something far more than that. Work that is never fully done.

This past July I took the online course offered by our Diocese: Racial Justice and Anti-Racism Training. It had been years since I had made the in-person training event – how to find the time? But in a pandemic, when we are nearly always at home, I decided to commit my Friday evenings. I am so very glad I did. Almost seventy persons participated, not only from the Diocese of NJ but from around the country. We can do that, you know, now that we are all zooming!

There was homework to do between sessions, all of which I found easy to access and well worth the time. The conversations were extraordinary. We had smaller break-out sessions which made sharing our experiences very comfortable. In the big group sessions, I rarely spoke; I felt what I really needed to do for myself was to simply listen. To listen to the experiences of my brothers and sisters of color. No need to be defensive, no need to clarify, simply to really hear the things they have long wanted to say. Some of it was very surprising! Even though I have known some of the participants for over twenty years, we had never spoken about these matters that are so very important and which so “color” the world in which we live.

The Diocese mandates this training for all clergy and lay leaders. I am glad they do, but truly, all of you would find it welcoming, challenging, and transformative. It is a gift to be able to share fears, hopes, disappointments, and dreams with other Episcopalians who do not want to judge but to help. The Team provided a very safe place for us to drop our inhibitions and simply be the body of Christ – joined through the internet, of course! I feel that it certainly widened my circle of friends, the very thing I pray each and every week.

Here is the good news: the training is being offered once again! We have enclosed the registration link below. Do take a look. The cost is minimal, and they offer scholarships – and so do I. So do not let that be a problem.
There are 4 two-hour sessions, with a week in-between which I found very helpful in processing and digesting what I had learned.

I encourage all our leaders and staff to take the training. And after you do? We will have our own conversation about it, and about what we as a congregation can do to achieve this work of our Lord’s most holy kingdom.

Peace,

Mother Lisa+

Live and Recorded Sessions
$50 fee. Scholarships available.

Register Now
Registration is now open for the next Anti-Racism Training online from the Diocese of New Jersey. Demand for the Diocese’s online Anti-Racism Training has been extraordinary and these sessions have filled very quickly. The Anti-Racism Commission is doing all it can to expand capacity.

The Episcopal Diocese of New Jersey Anti-Racism Ministry invites you to take advantage of time at home to enroll in 20 hours of virtual Anti-Racism Training streamed to your computer, tablet or mobile phone. The training takes a historical approach to help participants understand systemic racism and empower them to confront and organize against racism, inequality, and injustice. Lecture and discussion topics include “What is Race?”, “Systemic Racism and White Privilege,” “Internalized Racism,” “The Role of the Church,” “Settler Colonialism,” “Racism in Immigration and Naturalization Legislation,” and “The Prison Industrial Complex”.

The training begins on Sept 11 by Zoom videoconference, 7:00 to 9:00 PM. The training also includes Friday evening discussions and presentations (7:00 to 9:00 PM) Sept 18, Sept 25, and Oct 2, and participants receive reading assignments and recorded lessons throughout the course on Moodle, an online teaching platform.

Email Mary Anne Clisham (mclisham@dioceseofnj.org) for registration information or Noreen Duncan (noreen.duncan@att.net) for information about the training.

HELP WANTED

Christ Church Web Site Developer
The person who has done our web site for quite a long time is closing her business by the end of October. We are in need of someone who is experienced in Web Site Design and continued support of our site. Is there any talented parishioner who would be interested in this ministry? Or, does anyone know of someone who may want to work with us on a reasonable fee basis? If so, please call Mother Lisa, Elaine or Peggy with the name and contact information.
Search Committee Update

Advertisements have been placed! The Committee is still considering just what this "new" position will involve, and the qualifications we are looking for. It is "new" because this Pandemic has greatly changed the way we are doing worship and what our needs now - and in the future - may be. We have asked choir members to chime in on with their thoughts; their opinions are highly valued and respected. And of course, the Wardens and I are always happy to talk with any parishioner about concerns, ideas, and suggestions. We have added an additional member to the Committee: Diane Skelly. Diane has been a member of the St. Gregory's Choir for many, many years. We are pleased to have her on board as we prepare for our first interviews. Please keep the Committee and our Candidates in your prayers.

Peak of the Week

Peak through the Pandemic!
September 9, 2020! A date that will live in the minds of Peakers everywhere! We will begin Peaking at 9:30 with Mother Lisa sharing an informal Eucharist in the Parish Hall – socially distancing, of course. We are working hard to ensure everyone’s safety. We will continue at 10:15 for study and lively discussion, in the Hall as well. Each person will have their own table to spread out their books, etc, Join us for the start of the new Peak year with a very timely book, God and the Pandemic by N.T. Wright. Along with that book, we’ll Peak into Virus as a Summons to Faith by Walter Brueggemann. The two together should make for interesting reading and discussion. Come at 9:30, stay if you can. Come at 10:15—however your schedule works for you is fine with us. We'll be safe together. Don't forget your masks!

Our next workday (rain or shine) is Saturday September 12th. Summer growth is in real need of weeding and trimming. There are projects such as the Parish House gutters and the Rectory yard clean-up (especially after our summer storms). Please set aside just an hour or two to join this workday that runs from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM. Your time and efforts are greatly appreciated. As always a simple and warm lunch will be provided. Education for Ministry…. EFM….Exploring Faith Matters

The Efm seminar group has plans for the new school year! We will be meeting in the Parish Hall (with safety protocols in place) on Thursdays at 6:30pm beginning in September. We have a couple of slots open if anyone would like to join us; with schedules not so full these days, this might be the year to say “yes” to this wonderful adult education and formation opportunity. Whichever acronym you prefer, Efm is a fantastic place to engage your faith and practice. If you are interested, please contact the Rector.

Youth Group Prime

After a couple months of zooming, our Youth are planning to meet in person! We have been graciously invited once again to SAFELY gather at the home of the Van Valkenburghs for lunch and a swim on Saturday, September 12 at noon.

Parents as well as youth are welcome to attend this fun event in which we will also discuss what we might be doing (and HOW we might be doing it) for instruction this next year.

Please RSVP to Mother Lisa or the Church office (phone or email) so we can plan the day. We are all so excited to see one another masked face-to-masked face! The address will be sent out to those who RSVP.

Greetings from the Christian Education Commission

RALLY SUNDAY 2020!!!!

Well it has been quite a year so far- to say the least! I don’t know about you, but I am ready for some much cooler weather and to settle into some kind of workable routine. Is that even possible? For me Fall brings back good memories of back to school, Church School, pumpkin picking and football. So, while this year so many things will be different, more stressful and difficult, why not come on back to the place where peace reigns supreme.

Please join us as we rally together on Sunday, September 20 in our beautiful church. We will continue to follow safe distancing protocol, masking and sanitizing in the plan approved by the diocese. I really hope to see our Families, oldsters and youngsters alike as we gather in worship. What a great way to reap what we have sown. Looking forward to a great harvest. Additional information to follow in the weekly emails.

Faithfully,

Autumn Book Club: My Neighbor’s Faith

We live in the most religiously diverse society in history. Everyday people of different religious beliefs and practices encounter one another. How has this new situation of religious diversity impact the way we understand those whose beliefs and practices are so different than our own? How has this diversity impact the way we see God and ourselves? Can we learn to live and work together with mutual respect? Can we work together for the creation of a more compassionate and just world?

Join us for a zoom book study on Sunday afternoons at 2:00 PM beginning Sept. 20 of My Neighbor’s Faith edited by Jennifer How Peace, Or N. Rose and Gregory Mobley. This wonderful little book is a collection stories by a variety of community leaders, scholars, intellectuals and activists from the United States, Europe, and the Middle East (Available in Book or Kindle from Amazon). We promise to be finished by 3:00 PM.

If you let us know that you are interested in this study, we will add you to an email list to send you a reminder.

Looking Ahead……..

Hearts and Soles Combining Again to Aid Crop Walk

This October marks the 40th year of the Red Bank Crop Walk, and despite the many events that are being held virtually or not at all, the walk will be held, somewhat as in years past. One essential difference – participants are being asked to wear marks as well as shoes with hearty soles.

Sunday, October 18, is the day and walkers will follow a familiar route. Also, as in past years, walkers are being asked to form teams. Christ Church will host one, and we are looking forward to walking with supporters from our neighbor the Presbyterian Church and from St. John’s in Little Silver. We hope to gather at least as faithful a following as we have had in past years. The need this year is even greater, organizers have said, in large part due to the number of people who have lost their homes, jobs, and security in the face of the pandemic.

In Monmouth County, the walk supports programs at 15 food pantries, day care centers, housing and lunch programs. Many are familiar to Christ Church members – Family Promise, HABCore, Lunch Break, and the Monmouth Day Care Center among them. This year’s goal is $110,000 and 18,000 pounds of food, somewhat over last year’s results of $106,000 and 17,000 pounds of food. Crop Walk also encourages donations of real food – specifically, jars of peanut butter, bags of rice and beans, cans of soup.

Crop walkers have also made possible programs undertaken by Church World Service around the globe – providing hygiene kits, blankets, and health counselors to help people recover from natural disasters, deal with food insecurity and homelessness, and then go on to rebuild lives of dignity.

Our Crop Walk team this year is being organized by vestry member Connie Goddard, and we hope to have our team formed by mid-September. We will let CCS members and those from other parishes know how donations will be handled. Whether the day be fair or foul, we are confident that we can count on many of you to aid this popular and essential event.
Boscov’s Friends Helping Friends promotion is coming back in October! Every year Boscovs offers Monmouth area non-profit, charitable organizations a unique fund-raising opportunity. This year’s promotion will take place at Boscov’s Monmouth Mall on October 14, 2020. In order to partake of the 25% off promotion, you must present an admission ticket. The cost of each admission ticket is $5.00 - reasonable enough! Then, and this is the best part, for each ticket sold the Church will receive $5.00. Yes, the full amount!! Once again we will be participating in this effortless fundraiser. I will have the coupons in hand within the next couple weeks.

Community Garden Update

It was a good year for cucumbers!

We must have donated over 50 cucumbers to lunch break in Red Bank and too many tomatoes to count. They have sent us a nice thank you note for Christ Church’s effort. We are going to try a fall crop of spinach and or kale. As always thanks to Judi & Stewart for their help.

If you wish to help or want information about the garden contact kimroberts05@gmail.com

BOSCOV’S FUNDRAISER IS BACK! WHOO HOOO!

It was a good year for cucumbers!
After six months of hunkering down in a pandemic, I am very happy that we have some news to report. This month a group of GFSers met (safely, of course) at Huddy’s Restaurant in Colts Neck for a very special occasion. We were there to celebrate the graduation of Cassie Reagan from High School and to send her on her way as she pursues higher education at Stockton University as a Provost Scholar, and not too far away in New Jersey.

Cassie has been a member of GFS for many years, faithfully attending and later assisting with the younger girls. She has been to almost as many GFS summer camps as I have (sadly, this summer’s camp was cancelled, due to Covid 19). We presented Cassie with a GFS Scholarship along with many smaller gifts and happy toasts and accolades. We send her away with best wishes, and look forward to her joining us for holiday and special events during her college years.

We have supported Food for the Poor over the years; they need our help more than ever! But because of this pandemic, they are unable to be here with us in person.

They have offered us a virtual opportunity to engage in their mission of saving lives and bringing about transformation. At the bottom of this article, there are two links for two very short videos about the ministry. Two of their Episcopal priests provides a brief snapshot of the health care crisis and food insecurity that is unfolding in the Caribbean and Latin America.

Through a call to action, they offer a secure channel of texting-to-give that allows members of our congregation to be a blessing to the most vulnerable. Please feel free to share these videos to family and friends through social media.

We all know how difficult are the times in which we live; please watch and pray, and see what you can do to share the Light of Christ to the vulnerable living in abject poverty.

*Queeni Caay is a Philippine student Christ Church supplied a scholarship for college.

A note from Queeni Caay
All is well with me and I pray all of you are safe and sound. Another term starts Monday so we were given a short break before they showered us with another online class homework barrage 😆 I used all of the time to come home at my mom's place uptown which is really nice because it's a low-risk zone for Covid. You know, a place where your neighbor's cows and chickens could wake you up very early in the morning and all you'll ever hear in the evening are the calming sound of the crickets.

So much for my short break. School begins again, but we will be online only. Sadly, many of us do not find online classes satisfying because it's really different from learning with everyone and with your professor very hands-on in making sure you understand every discussion. There's also a demand for an academic freeze instead of online classes here in the Philippines because many students who do not have any means to be online will be left behind and educational institutions are not fully prepared for modular/offline classes. Aside from that, the network connection in our country is considered very poor in global statistics and not everyone has their own internet connection not even a pocket Wi-Fi. Online classes are quite a bit more challenging than actual face-to-face classes because professors tend to overload us with so much school work - even during the weekends - and video calling isn't a very effective way for learning from discussions.

Nevertheless, I am up for this new challenge, I prepared myself for a whole semester online class. I have my own pocket Wi-Fi but sometimes it's very slow and loads a additional cost. So, my plan is to stay in a coffee shop with free Wi-Fi near our dorm for very busy days. It only takes a 15-minute walk to get there so I'll be fine and I promise to do well. Most of the subjects I am taking now are writing subjects because the Dean in our course decided to move editing, production, photography classes and other subjects that needs actual performance to the next semester which will be by January 2021. Hopefully by then, everyone will be vaccinated.

By God’s grace through our faith, we connect from the Philippines to the USA.

Seasons: New Work
by Lou Storey and Eileen Kennedy
August 28 through November 2020
Red Bank Frameworks
135 Monmouth Street, Red Bank
(across from Fins and Feathers)

Tuesday - Friday 10 to 6; Saturday 10 to 5; closed Sunday and Monday.
Face coverings must be worn to enter.

I'm writing to share the details of my exhibition opening in Red Bank August 28th. The show will feature 8 new works inspired by my memories of growing up in the Red Bank area. Also showing is my friend Lou Storey. We were classmates at Pratt back in the 70s. We haven't done a real show together in more than 40 years. I work in media that were most prevalent in the 1400s. Lou uses materials that weren't invented until the 1950s and 60s. It's a fun show. We can't have an opening in the gallery so we're having one on Zoom on August 28 at 6:30 pm. I hope you can stop in to say hello. Here is the Zoom link:

https://us02web.zoom.us/j/82286036554

If you can come to Red Bank to see the real thing:

If you'd like a personal tour, let me know when you'll be visiting the gallery and I'll do my best to meet you there. Also, please feel free to share this with anyone who might be interested.

In the meantime, I hope that you, your families and colleagues are well and safe.

Best regards,
Eileen Kennedy

HURRICANE SEASON – That euphoric and mystical time of year, June through September (and, sometimes October!) when nature has a field day on our plans, and, often, our property, too!

Hurricane Isaias visited recently and left a memento for us, right here at Christ Church. For years, it seems, we have been watching as the Oak tree in the North Graveyard has been showing signs of increasing fragility. We have seen scattered branches fall. We have witnessed large limbs cast to the ground. Occasionally, we have also seen damage to our gravestones by fallen branches. Well, this storm cast a warning notice to us. A very large and heavy limb fell from the Oak tree and landed, thankfully, between two gravestones.

Visiting the Oak, which is situated next to a side gate in the fence bordering along Sycamore Avenue and the North Graveyard, one pauses to take time to stand at its base and gaze up into its canopy of branches. It is easy to come to the sad conclusion that this tree is in poor health. A number of its branches no longer produce leaves and are becoming a safety hazard to passersby on the sidewalk, visitors in the graveyard, and, the graves themselves. We assessed the overall health of the Oak with the experienced eye of a professional arborist, and, are in the process of obtaining quotes to do the delicate and skilled work of having the tree trimmed. Thankfully, the arborist stated that there is yet quite a bit of life in the old tree. If we had to have it removed, it would have involved avoiding damage to the graves, the gravestones, the fence, the sidewalk and the powerlines. It would have also required that the arborist’s trucks sit in the street, and, most likely, block off Shrewsbury Avenue from traffic for a time while they perform their delicate and dangerous work. Not a small feat in the least! It would have cost a fortune, according to the arborist.

In the South Graveyard, on the left, as the brick walkway from the parking lot approaches its turn toward the front doors of the church, stands another sentinel who will require attention sooner rather than later. In the past, the Maple tree has been known to shed branches that have resulted in damage to the stained-glass windows of the church during 2012’s Hurricane Sandy. It is showing signs, presently, of some damaged branches which are poised to come down. In the interest of prevention, we have requested an additional quote to do the necessary trim work, hoping to keep not only the windows safe, but, also, anyone who unknowingly may happen by at the wrong moment. New equipment in the arborist’s arsenal will allow them to go neatly and gently between the graves without the necessity of having to use heavy equipment.

The Maples along the Broad Street entrance to our parking lot have spread their arching branches over the driveway. It is a rustic and pretty scene, to be sure. However, according to township employees, the trees plan to take over the driveway and will soon prevent the Sanitation trucks from entering our property to collect our garbage. So, we are looking into ways to address the problem through trimming rather than removing the Maples.

For several months now we have been reporting about three Black Walnut trees. As you recall, their removal has become necessary due to property damage and safety issues. These trees were scheduled to be removed on August 6th and 7th from the Rectory and the church parking lot. They were given a temporary reprieve due to the Hurricane of early August. The Arborist was urgently called away in order to address the widespread major damage that Hurricane Isaias has inflicted on our area, and, therefore, had to reschedule our Black Walnut project to a later date. The new date is September 9th. If you plan to visit the church properties at that time, for your safety, please be cognizant of the work areas. Better still . . . avoiding the work areas altogether would be the more prudent approach.

Whew! Lots of trees!
Stay healthy, everyone!
